The Police Reform and Social Responsibility Act continues to protect the operational independence of the police by making it clear that the Chief Constable retains direction and control of the force, officers and staff.

As the Police and Crime Commissioner, Paddy is therefore unable to intervene with operational policing matters, this remains the responsibility of the Chief Constable.

The Police and Crime Commissioner's primary responsibilities are as detailed below:

- holding the chief constable to account for the delivery of the force
- setting and updating a police and crime plan
- setting the force budget and precept
- regularly engaging with the public and communities
- appointing, and where necessary dismissing, the Chief Constable

Paddy has however received correspondence concerning speeding in Linby from a number of sources and is communications with Nottinghamshire Police in this regard.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your interest in the Nottinghamshire Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner.

Should you have any further enquiries concerning this matter, please write or contact the Freedom of Information Officer on telephone number 101 Ext 801 2008 or e-mail nopcc@nottinghamshire.pnn.police.uk.

Yours sincerely

Lisa Pearson
