1. POLICY AND PRACTICE

Home Office #knifefree chicken boxes launched – 14 August 2019

Home Office distributes over 321,000 '#knifefree' branded chicken boxes to independent and branch owned chicken shops across England and Wales, replacing standard packaging with warnings to young people about the dangers of carrying a knife. The packaging offers real life stories of young people who have chosen to pursue positive activities, such as boxing or music, instead of carrying a knife. Many of the 210 participating outlets will also have screens showing the #knifefree campaign.

Revised PACE Codes of Practice C and H which come into effect - 21 August 2019

Revisions to code C (detention) and code H (detention – terrorism) take effect following statutory consultation. Revisions aim to provide safeguards for female detainees and ensure detainee dignity, health, hygiene and welfare by: requiring custody officers to offer and make necessary arrangements for detainees to speak in private with a same sex member of staff about any matter concerning their personal health, hygiene and welfare needs; providing menstrual products free of charge in custody where required; making explicit that access to toilet, washing facilities, strip searches and intimate searches must take account of the detainee's dignity, health, hygiene and welfare needs; ensuring that the possible needs of transgender individuals are not overlooked in respect of these matters. Updated notice of rights and entitlements

Victims' Commissioner Strategy 2019 to 2022 – Published 21 August 2019

Victims' Commissioner strategic plan sets out strategic priorities for her first term in office to:-

- Work with CJ agencies to ensure victims of crime are treated well, with a focus on the treatment of victims in the court room, so as to aid them to give best evidence and support to enable them to cope and recover
- Monitor and report on compliance with the requirements of the Code of Practice for Victims of Crime and the Witness Charter - make recommendations for change and raise public awareness of entitlements
- Ensure the interests of victims and witnesses are fully considered in any proposals for CJ development and/or change, including to victim support services and other agencies whose activities impact on victims
- Articulate a view of the CJ system from the perspective of victims; contribute to, review and challenge decisions taken by policy makers and those responsible for developing practice
- identify and actively promote examples of good practice and excellence

2. RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT AND STATISTICS

Rekindling British Policing – A 10-point plan for revival – 13 August 2019

Policy Exchange report considers government commitments to recruit 20,000 additional police officers over 3 years and calls for investment in community neighbourhood teams, investment in capability and capacity to address less visible Serious and Organised Crime threats and establishment of a Police Technology Innovation Hub in collaboration with private sector experts and venture capitalists to help advocate change directly with the Home Secretary. Report also argues that the Home Office should create a new independent National Crime Analysis Unit to report on the underlying causes of crime and for the IOPC to be merged into HMICFRS to create a single independent oversight body in order to deliver savings and reduce bureaucracy.

Violent Youth Crime: NLGN Leadership Index Survey – 21 August 2019

New Local Government Network (NLGN) report on findings from the quarterly survey of local authority chief executives and leaders which explored views on the sector's capacity to respond to rises in violent youth crime.

- 75% of leaders felt that councils had insufficient central government funding to address violent youth crime in their area, rising to 85% among urban councils and 89% among Welsh authorities
- 61% reported that violent youth crime had increased or increased considerably in their area over the last five years, rising to 85% in Metropolitan councils and 90% in London, the East and the East Midlands
- Of those reporting a rise in violent crime, the most common offence types were anti-social behaviour (33%), drug offences (21%) and gang-related violence (19%).
- When asked what respondents felt would enable the public sector to address violent youth crime more effectively, many highlighted investment in prevention and early intervention and more effective outreach
- Confidence in ability to meet children's services and adult social care needs has fallen by 11% and 13% respectively in the last quarter. Confidence in adult social care needs reached the 2nd lowest level recorded

Results from the 10 Prisons Project – 22 August 2019

Findings from the 2018/19 '10 Prisons Project' which aimed to reduce violence in the 10 most challenging prisons by reducing drug supply, raising standards of decency, and increasing leadership capability. The project saw a 16% reduction in the rate of assaults per 1,000 prisoners between June and June 2019 alongside reductions in the percentage of random mandatory drug tests testing positive.
