

Nottinghamshire Police and Crime Survey 2022-23

Quarter 2

September 2022

NOTTINGHAMSHIRE
POLICE & CRIME
COMMISSIONER

About the survey

- ❑ The Police and Crime Survey is commissioned by the Nottinghamshire Police & Crime Commissioner and has been undertaken on a quarterly basis across the police force area since June 2017
- ❑ The survey robustly captures and tracks indicators of public trust and confidence in the police and residents' experience of crime and ASB and their satisfaction with any policing services received
- ❑ The survey uses an 'assisted self-completion' method, where teams of interviewers distribute questionnaires, offer support in completing them and return later to collect them if help is not required
- ❑ The survey achieves over 4,260 responses per year based on a sampling scheme representative of the local population at local authority level by age, gender, employment status and ethnicity
- ❑ Sampling points are set at Lower Super Output Area (LSOA) level to ensure good geographic coverage. Residents from all of Nottinghamshire's 697 LSOAs are surveyed over a two year period
- ❑ Quarterly waves of fieldwork help to minimise skews that can be caused by seasonality or significant events. The LSOAs in which fieldwork is undertaken each quarter are evenly distributed by deprivation and population profile
- ❑ In each wave, the survey provides a margin of error of +/-3% at the 95% confidence level across the force area. Responses are aggregated to report on the most recent 12 month rolling period each quarter.

Latest fieldwork and sample size

- ❑ The latest wave of fieldwork was undertaken between 21 August and 3 September 2022 under conditions compliant with the Market Research Society code of practice. In this wave, a total of 1,064 questionnaires were completed.
- ❑ One in eight LSOAs were selected from each of the following geographic areas:
 - Nottingham
 - South Nottinghamshire - comprising Gedling, Broxtowe and Rushcliffe
 - Bassetlaw, Newark and Sherwood
 - Mansfield and Ashfield
- ❑ The survey achieved a sample of 4,316 respondents over the latest reporting period, broken down as follows:-

Attitudes towards the Precept and Police Funding

Nottinghamshire Police and Crime Survey
2022/23 Quarter 2

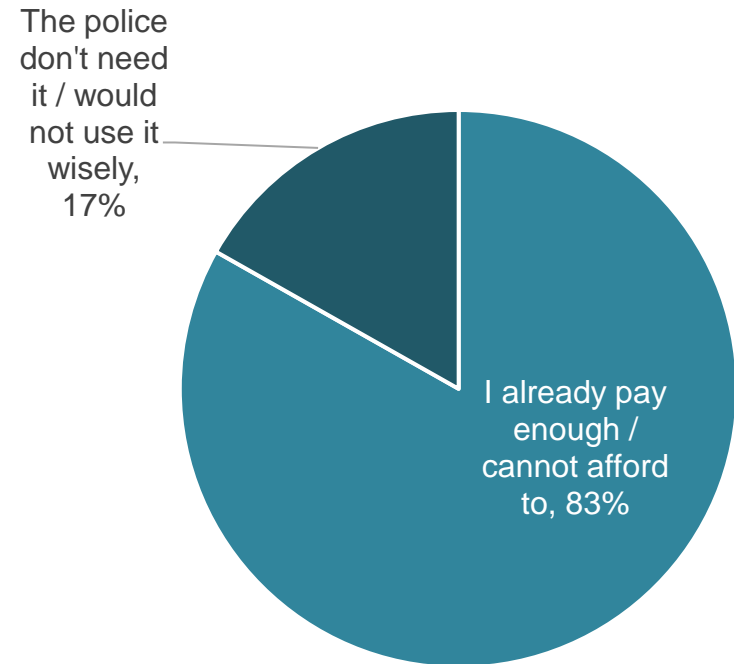

In the year to September 2021, the proportion respondents not supporting an increase in the precept for policing was higher than the proportion not supporting an increase in previous years, with 24% stating that they needed more information.

To what extent would you be prepared to pay more towards policing? (Year to September 2021)

To what extent would you be prepared to pay more for policing as part of the policing precept?

Which option best describes why you would not be prepared to pay more as part of the policing precept?

24%

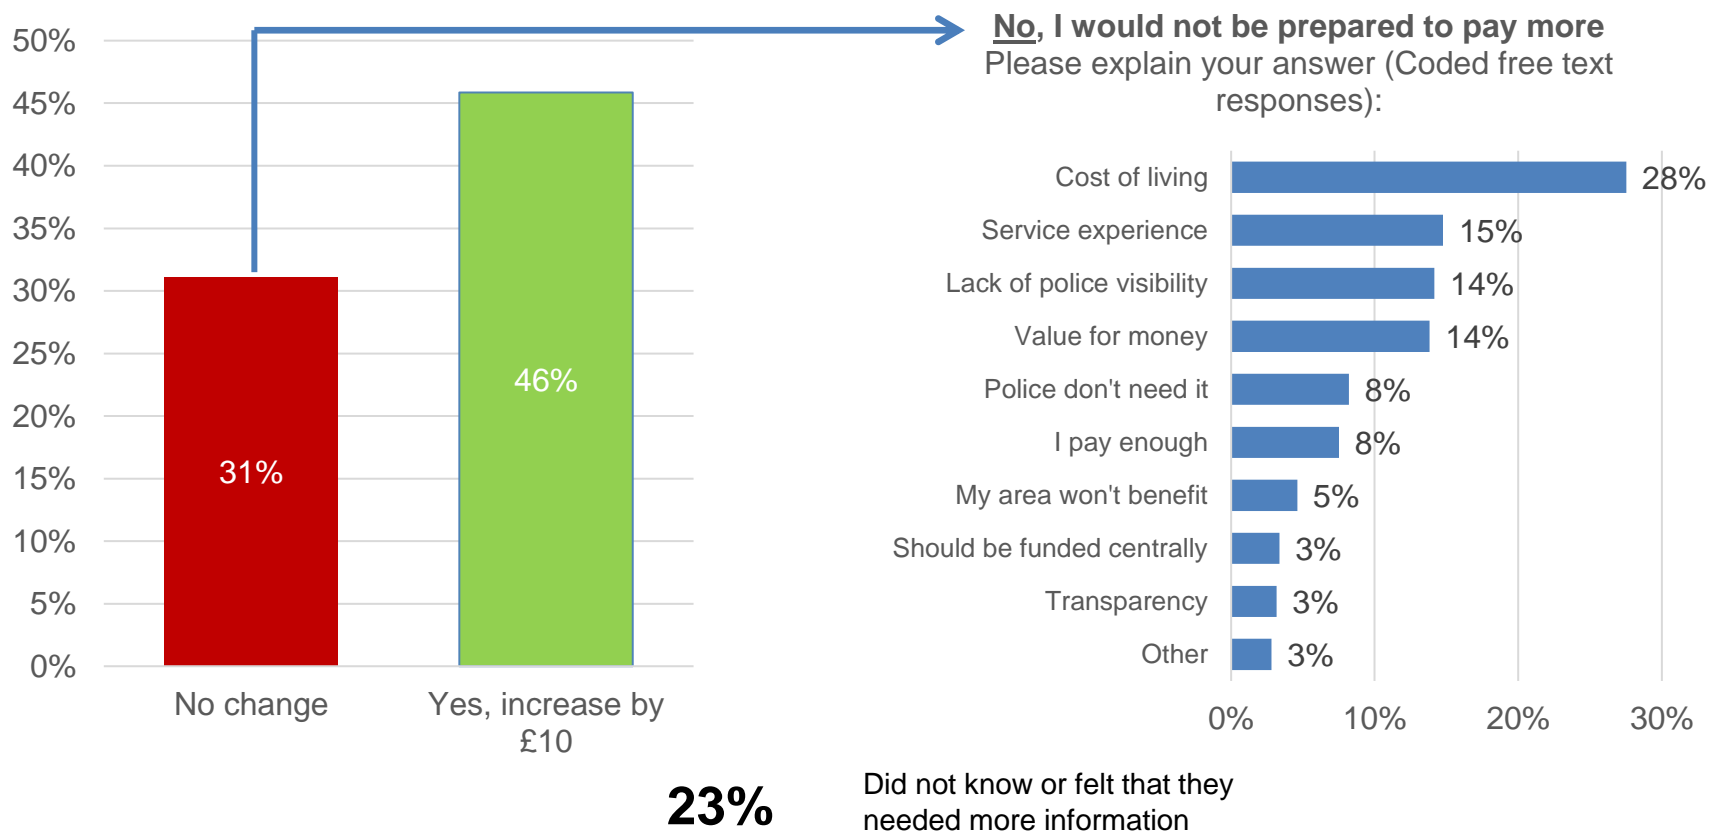

Did not know or felt that they needed more information

Base: Year to September 21 = 4,131, Q: Households in Nottinghamshire pay, on average, £229 a year towards policing as part of their Council Tax (Band D properties).

To what extent would you be prepared to pay more?

In 2022, the question was revised to include more detail on how the precept would be spent. Options were also limited to simply a proposed £10 annual increase. All respondents were asked to explain their answer. Initial findings show a marked increase in support.

Households in Nottinghamshire pay, on average, £254 a year towards policing as part of their Council Tax (Band D properties). The Police and Crime Commissioner is able to increase this amount by £10 this year, which would equate to an additional 83p per month per Band D household. If the precept was increased, the additional funding would be used to increase the number of police officers in Nottinghamshire, help ensure that they have the resources to do their job effectively and increase the amount spent on crime prevention. To what extent would you be prepared to pay more?
